Foreword

This strategy outlines a step up in our aspiration and commitment towards reducing inequality throughout all our communities across Elmbridge.

In presenting this strategy, we recognise that treating everyone the same and providing equal opportunities is not sufficient in building an inclusive Elmbridge.

We all face different barriers to opportunity in life, and there are parts of our community who still face systemic discrimination and prejudice. As such we acknowledge the need to provide additional support to those who need it most.

As a council we have a key enabling role to play in building a more equal Borough, but we know we will not succeed if this is simply another council owned strategy. The aspirations outlined here belong to the people of the Borough, across all of communities regardless of background or belief. We have aimed to take that approach from the start, with the strategy being significantly shaped not just by council equality, diversity and inclusion champions, but by conversations with local community groups who work to achieve this every day in relation to all of the protected characteristics and pledge to continue that engagement as we move from strategy to action.

As Leader of the council, I am pleased to champion this strategy.

Councillor Bruce McDonald
Leader, Elmbridge Borough Council
Portfolio Holder for Transformation

Introduction

It is easy to think that we know Elmbridge, its people and its businesses. As a community leader we need to know our community, who they are, what motivates them, their needs now and in the future.

This strategy represents an increase in ambition. It explores what we mean by inclusivity and inclusion, and how we plan to actively search for and support people who are excluded and disadvantaged, and work to break down the barriers to opportunity for all.

We know we are already a great place to work, and a high performing organisation and we want to build on this by providing the right support and tools to our people.

We have developed four priority objectives for action to frame the next steps of our journey towards an inclusive Elmbridge, and we will continue to set ourselves challenging targets for achieving against these objectives over the life of this strategy and beyond.

We work hard to make sure that everyone has a voice, but we know that we are not always reaching all groups, and that some communities do not access our services as much as we would expect them to. We want to change that.

We aspire to ensure that we are a welcoming borough of opportunity for all, to deliver better services, designed for those who need them, where every voice is listened to and valued.

This strategy does not attempt to set out all that the council and our partnerships are delivering to tackle inequality and promote inclusion. It aims to provide our overarching framework for promoting equality, diversity and inclusion in Elmbridge.

Our Vision:

We will always commit to and strive for fairness, equality, diversity and inclusivity for all.

What do we mean by Equality, Diversity and Inclusion (EDI)?

Equality is treating everybody equally and fairly, regardless of their personal characteristics. It is also ensuring that everybody has equity of opportunity. This means helping those who are disadvantaged by their circumstances.

Diversity is recognising and celebrating the difference between people and communities. A diverse borough celebrates its wide range of cultures. A diverse workplace welcomes the variety of ideas, innovations, and representativeness that diversity brings.

Inclusion is creating an environment that actively includes, welcomes and values everybody, regardless of their background. This strategy represents our ambition to become more proactive in our inclusion, reaching into communities, meeting people where they are, and attracting the best talent to our inclusive workplace.

Our legal duties, the protected characteristics and our aspirations beyond these requirements

The Equality Act 2010 introduced the public sector equality duty (PSED), which means that the council, and other public bodies, must consider how changes to policies and services impact those who use them and work for them. This also sets out several 'protected characteristics' - these are the aspects of identity that are legally protected from discrimination.

This public sector equality duty also requires public bodies, in the exercise of their functions, to have due regard to:

- Eliminate unlawful discrimination, harassment and victimisation and any other conduct prohibited under the Act
- Advance equality of opportunity between people who share those protected characteristics and people who do not
- Foster good relations between people who share those characteristics and people who do not.

The Equality Act 2010 also extended laws to protect carers from being treated unfairly. Around 6 million people in the UK act as unpaid carers for a friend or relative and the council is committed to championing and appreciating all those with caring responsibilities.

Wider equality, diversity and inclusion impacts

The following groups who are at particular risk of disadvantage but are poorly captured by equalities data:

- Children in Care, who tend to do less well at school, are at risk of suffering from poor mental health and are less likely to be in education and employment at age 19
- Homeless households and rough sleepers, who experience more poor health, with the average age of death among people who are long-term homeless considerably lower than the general population
- Gypsy, Roma and Traveller communities, who are disproportionately affected by poor health, are overrepresented in the prison population and are less likely to be economically active and have lower levels of educational attainment than other groups
- Refugees and asylum seekers, who face barriers to accessing the labour market, have poor health, and are particularly vulnerable to discrimination, social stigma and poverty
- LGBTQ+ community are at higher risk of experiencing poor mental health, being the target of hate crime and experiencing unequal treatment from healthcare staff because of their LGBTQ+ status.
- UK Armed Forces Veterans are more likely to face challenges around employment, and are more likely to have a physical, sensory or mental health condition than the wider population. Elmbridge signed the Armed Forces Covenant in 2013, which aims to redress the disadvantages that can be faced by the Armed Forces Community.
- People with experience of the criminal justice system, who often face challenges around financial security, employment, and housing, as well as being more likely to have a mental health condition.

Developing our EDI strategy – Engagement Report

Assessing the council against best practice

The Local Government Association's Equality Framework has been used to guide the development of this strategy. The purpose of this Framework is to help councils to review and improve performance. The four improvement areas in this framework are:

- Understanding and working with communities
- Leadership, partnership and organisational commitment
- Responsive services and customer care
- Diverse and engaged workforce

We have used this framework to guide our engagement and develop our objectives and delivery plan, with an aim of achieving excellent practice in all these areas over the life of this strategy.

Engaging with communities

We have reached out to communities, meeting with key community groups and stakeholders, to ask them about their experiences, the aspirations they have for Elmbridge and what our objectives should be for the next six years.

We also spoke to our employees, who reflected a great ambition for Elmbridge.

Key messages heard for the council and partners:

- Communities and individuals appreciate being involved early and meaningfully
- We must work harder to reach smaller groups and those that we have so far failed to engage
- Communities appreciate the support that the council and partners give through visible community leadership
- Communities are complex, we should recognize and understand intersectionality, every experience and case are different
- The best way to ensure accessible services is to design them with communities rather than for communities

- Our strategy should include not just protected characteristics, but wider equalities impacts like socioeconomic status or deprivation or health inequalities
- All content created by the council should be easy to understand

We then developed four themes, our equality, diversity and inclusion objectives, and asked stakeholders and residents for their thoughts on these objectives.

The borough profile

Only by understanding who lives and works in Elmbridge will we be able to provide appropriate and good quality services that meet the needs of our borough's different communities. The information we hold about our communities is regularly updated and used to plan services.

To develop this strategy, we have created a publicly available data profile which paints a picture of our local community's protected characteristics which can be seen in Appendix 4. This data is an important part of our picture, but it is only part of it. We will continue to review and develop this data as this strategy is reviewed annually, in consultation with stakeholders, so that local organisations have the best information available to make decisions in the interests of all residents. It will be updated as new sources of information become available. The profile shows:

22% of the population is under 16 and 18% is 65 or over.

A significant proportion of our population identifies as being white, larger minority ethnic groups within our population identify as being Asian, Asian British, Asian Welsh or as having a mixed ethnic heritage.

2% of our population as having a non-heterosexual orientation.

Over 50% of our population has a religion

We have a smaller proportion of people who are economically inactive with a disability compared to England.

Our objectives for the next six years

Our equality, diversity and inclusion objectives reflect the cross-cutting themes in our Vision 2030 and People Strategy. These objectives relate to each aspect of the council's role as an employer, a provider of services and in our public sector equality duty in bringing communities together.

Objective 1: Listen to and learn from the diverse communities we serve.

We will do this by:

- Increasing direct engagement with and participation from minority, seldom heard, protected and vulnerable groups in our community
- Talking to those who use our services about their experiences with council services and in their day-to-day life in Elmbridge
- Improving the quality of the data and information we collect and the way it is used to assess the impact of decisions on minority, seldom heard, protected and vulnerable groups in the community and how services are provided

Objective 2: Celebrate the diversity of our borough and champion communities, making sure that Elmbridge is a safe borough for all

We will do this by:

- Encouraging mutual understanding between and across all communities by showcasing local events such as religious and cultural festivals
- Working with partners, residents, businesses and communities to challenge discrimination and tackle harassment and hate crime
- Welcoming and supporting communities in hosting and celebrating their events

Objective 3: Deliver accessible and inclusive policies and services that meet the diverse needs of communities

We will do this by:

- Strengthening equality, diversity and inclusion analysis in service planning and decision making across Elmbridge Borough Council
- Working in partnership with communities and engaging effectively before services are developed
- Developing strong oversight and management to monitor progress and identify areas of further opportunity
- Improving the systems we use to identify who is and who is not using our services and how we can improve access to services and how we can improve customer satisfaction

Objective 4: Be the best employer for people of all backgrounds.

We will do this through:

- Being a representative workforce, which promotes equality
- Reaching into the community to tap into our borough's vast talent and potential
- Placing inclusivity and wellbeing being at the heart of service delivery and throughout the entire employee lifecycle
- Valuing and respecting each other and challenging poor behaviour
- Listening to each other and encouraging everyone to be themselves at work
- Striving to follow equal opportunities best practice in both our policies and approaches
- Ensuring an informed workforce who understand the importance of equality when making decisions

The council and our partners

While this document represents the council's equality, diversity and inclusion strategy, we are committed to working with our partners to develop a coherent, shared borough Vision 2030. We will work together to address our priorities and improve outcomes, ensuring that the partnership develops our practice together, and that we are sharing information consistently and appropriately to collectively plan and deliver our services. The Voluntary and Community Sector are key partners for us. We value our faith and community groups and are committed to continuing to actively support them.

Elmbridge as an employer

As one of the largest employers in the borough, we aim to lead in being an exemplar employer for people from protected characteristics and making Elmbridge better together by living our values. These values and behaviours as an employer embody our commitment to equality, diversity and inclusion. They are:

- Respect - we are considerate, tolerant and attentive to the opinions of colleagues and customers
- Customer service - we place our customers at the heart of everything we do
- Progressive - we are flexible and open to improvement and development

We are committed to supporting and developing our employee networks, who provide both a voice for our employees from protected characteristic groups and a critical friend to the organisation in improving equalities both for employee groups and our wider community.

Monitoring and accountability

To put in place the oversight to deliver on the ambitions in this strategy we will report into the council's Leadership Team. This will ensure that equality analysis, impact assessment, objective setting and monitoring are effective in improving outcomes. A key function of this group will be to further embed capacity and capability to identify and report and tackle disproportionality in our services. We will also work with partners and stakeholders to identify how best to put in place partnership governance to ensure delivery of this strategy.

Next steps

We will meet with the key stakeholders who have contributed to the development of this strategy to discuss the emerging objective delivery plan set out at Appendix 2.

Appendix 1: Inclusive Elmbridge Engagement Report

The Equality, Diversity and Inclusion (EDI) Strategy and Objective Delivery Plan engagement exercise had two phases:

1. A conversation with key local stakeholders, partners, core council service leads and council employee groups to draft initial key principles and themes
2. A public engagement exercise to finalise these key themes, with communications focused on both increasing awareness and on reaching seldom heard groups

Feedback from this exercise has been used to develop the Objective Delivery Plan.

What we asked and what people said

The first phase of engagement was carried out through focus groups internally with employees and EDI champions, externally with key local stakeholders. Focus groups were conducted with the following community organisations:

- Walton Charity
- North Surrey Domestic Abuse Service
- Citizens Advice
- Surrey Minority Ethnic Forum
- Faith Leaders

This was followed by further focus groups with councillors and employee networks. These focus groups determined priority areas for action, identifying current gaps and the ambition for Elmbridge. The second phase of engagement was an online internal and public survey.

About the respondents to the online engagement

We wanted to listen to the views and experiences of all communities when drafting the strategy. Public and internal engagements were carried out online anonymously. Paper copies were available upon request.

Internally, the survey was posted on our intranet and received a total of 93 responses. Externally, EDI consultation news was posted on our council website, it is also included in the Councillor News and Residents News. The consultation was also promoted through our social media, this includes Facebook, Instagram and LinkedIn. To further reach out to our community, posters were put up in libraries, council noticeboards and shared with community partners. A total of 45 respondents filled out our public consultation, with a diverse range of respondents from across the protected characteristics.

Feedback on the EDI Strategy draft themes

The general feedback from both internal and public consultation is relatively positive and we should ensure that this strategy benefits the majority of our community.
